AUTHORITY
IS CONSTRUCTED
AND CONTEXTUAL

“Information literacy is the set of integrated abilities encompassing the reflective discovery of information,
the understanding of how information
is produced and valued,
and the use of information in creating new knowledge and participating ethically in communities of learning.”

Authority is constructed and contextual.

Information creation as a process.

Information has value.

Research as inquiry.

Scholarship as conversation.

Searching as strategic exploration.

Information resources reflect their creators' expertise and credibility, and are evaluated based on the information need and the context in which the information will be used. Authority is constructed in that various communities may recognize different types of authority. It is contextual in that the information need may help to determine the level of authority required.
